

STORY STRUCTURE

While Reading,
Ask Yourself:

How does the beginning reflect the ending? What about on a chapter level?

What structure does this book seem to follow? Can you predict what happens next?

How does this scene build on/is a reaction to the scene before?

How do they move the narrative forward while still building characters and the world?

